

1/ you are two singers, who sings the most and was it a fight in the rehearsals?! why have u you released these songs on a 7" without other members?! Did you record two guitars? Usually bands play for a while before pressing anything how come you pressed a 7" as a project?!

“ Hehe, no there aren't any fights about who should handle the song in the rehearsals even if we sometimes should need to hit Ponta twice so he would calm down. He's so energetic and used to play he's mental retarded behind the drums. From the beginning Ponta should do most of the vocals but after a while we noticed that our 2 voices fit each other really good in the music. We don't have any problems to know where each of us should do the vocals as Pontas voice is really mean while mine is more screaming. We released the 7" with just Ponta and me as we didn't thought we should turn into a real band from the beginning and as it just should be a project we didn't want to involve more people in the band than necessary. Yeah there are two guitars recorded on the 7" release. The reason why we released the 7" direct was that the projects meaning was just to record and release an EP as a tribute to the old school thrash metal! ”

2/ You have started four years ago ?! is beeing very quick compare to the mass of bands who take years to get the right line up and compositions, what is your secret? you have a studio, you keep creating, you play in known bands?!

“ That's right it's almost four years since we formed Denata and I don't really know why it has been moving this fast for us! I guess we have been really lucky and one thing is that we never need to compromise when creating the music. We all think the same and want the same thing with our music! A Denata song shall sound pretty old school and never contain too many riffs or technical stuff, like a fist in your face! Yeah, we have been in several local bands before but not all three in the same band. Among some of the bands Rogga and Ponta played together back in the 80's in a thrash band named Total Death and I played back in the 90's in a thrash band named Skullcrusher! ”

3/ Is sweden full of studios and labels , you just pop into a guy in the bar and you have a record coming?!

“ Where we live it isn't like that but I can just speak for our town as I don't use to travel to other towns too often. I know there are a lot more of metal folks in towns like Gothenburg and Stockholm but here in Linköping you could almost count the metal folks on 2 hands. “

4/ you seem to have a passion for Thrash Metal you must be happy the old bands are reforming?!what are you favorites of all time, do you listen to lots of 90's bands? (Death / Black..)

“ Yeah we are possessed by old thrash and death metal and we are really glad some of the old heroes are back again! Like Destructions return, holy shit they really know how to do it! Ponta just listen to old school all the time while Rogga and I also inject metal from the 90's and 00's! It's hard to give you our all time favorites as we got many and that we always forget to mention someone but to give you a few bands: Venom, Sodom, Kreator, Celtic Frost, Possessed, Infernal Majesty, King Diamond, Mercyful Fate, Motorhead, The Crown .. I could go on for hours ..”

5/ Done any gigs so far? Do you travel a lot? you seem like an old time bands friends why you haven't started earlier?!

“ No we haven't done a single show yet with Denata but we'll see what the future will bring. The most important reason for not performing live yet is that we use two guitars on the records but live we would just have one. So if we are going live we have to rehearse different with the bass guitar or get us a session guitar player. We haven't really discussed this too much but we'll see .. I hope we will get up on stage one day but till then we remain a studio band ..”

“ another fukin' day, let 's have a drink” (a bit later) “Hey guys fancy a walk?” “ let's go to see the trains it should be fun” (a bit drunk) “ Ohhh I wanna die hope a train ran me over!” “Come on don't be silly” “no I won't move, I just wanna die” “ Ok we'll stay with you until the train comes but then we go home to have more beers” “Yeah more beers”...

- What a nice everyday metallers story ain't it?! - Don't have live phootage or playing in the studio?!

“ Yeah that's right but I had to pee after a while so we missed that damn train. Next time I will make sure I have done that before so we don't have to leave the rail just because of that hehe... “

7/ How came your deal with Artic, are they big or new label?! We should hear from you now over the world, U'll belong to the old Thrash Scene!!! What means the name?! have they made all the artwork on your covers?!

“ We got contacted by Arctic Music Group when we where in the studio and they where interested in our new album DEATHTRAIN. They offered us a really good deal so we signed for them. Arctic is a rather small label but really serious with a great network. Yeah I hope we will reach out to the masses this time as our previous releases just have been spread through the underground. Our band name is taken from the Latin word denatus, which means dead. No all the artwork is made by me on my computer.”

8/ your covers are quite simple but looks special, you wear inverted cross and made a song called 666 are you “satanic” ?! is your country too much religious?!

Thanks I'm glad you enjoy the covers! We hate religions in all forms why live after a lie some bastard came up with thousands of years ago? But we are really fascinated by darkness and evil and use it in our lyrics most of the time. I know the cross Ponta wears looks like an inverted cross but that's wrong. It's a wolf cross that was used back in the ancient times by the Vikings to navigate with. Ponta really need it to find back home after the rehearsals hehe. In our land you are born as a member to the church but it's simple to quit. Common Swedes are members but it's not often you meet someone that are fanatic religious.

Thanks as hell for the interview bro and keep the axe swinging!
